1	United Kingdom Court rules on injunction against proceedings outside Brussels/Lugano regime  The Supreme Court recently had to decide whether the courts' power to issue injunctive relief extended to a situation where arbitration proceedings were not in progress or contemplation and where judicial proceedings had been initiated in a country outside the Brussels/Lugano regime. With its decision, the court has upheld the sanctity of the arbitration agreement in line with the traditional principles of English law. Author: Marie Berard Read More: http://www.internationallawoffice.com/?i=55592&l=7JQLQE4
2	Belize Caribbean Court of Justice rules government must arbitrate under treaty  The Caribbean Court of Justice has delivered a landmark decision which narrows the circumstances in which a government may resort to its domestic courts to restrain international arbitration proceedings. The decision is an important victory for international investors in the Commonwealth Caribbean, since many bilateral investment treaties include clauses for resolution of disputes by international arbitration. Author: Eamon Harrison Courtenay Read More: http://www.internationallawoffice.com/?i=55592&l=7JS2WYE
